DRIFTING AWAY

Sure to be a hit with the 2WD Saff and RWD Escort crew, Racelogic has launched every drifter's dream: the DriftBox. The system is GPS-based and measures in degrees the angle of your drift, but can also measure your 0-60, quarter-mile time, braking distances and lap times. It's the perfect device to stop Big Dave down the pub from giving it "Yeah I pulled a 60-degree drift at 70 for two miles!" The DriftBox can also download all its data on to an SD memory card, so you can study every aspect of your performance... and to prove Big Dave is talking crap. The unit retails for £465, contact Racelogic on 01280 823803 or check out www.driftbox.com.
